IN ALL SPHERES OF SPORT HIS is Futurity day. At Belmont Park this afternoon the world's Racegoers Angry When Shut leading turf classic for two-year-olds and one of the brightest gems in America's diadem of racing features will be decided. This year the event carries a purse well worth the efforts of the most aristocratic of owners and equines alike, for the total will be approximately $30,000. This sum has been exceeded many times in the past, but considering that this is a war year the purse far exceeds the expectations of the stewards ment, which came to a close on the of the Jockey Club. The top sum in the Futurity was reached in 1890. when the winner's share was $77,000. That year the classic was monopolized by the stable of August Belmont the elder, for his Potomac and Masher ran one two. The following year the Futurity almost hit the record, for His Highness won $72,000 for David Gideon. The smallest purse in the history of the Futurity was that of 1910, when only $10,000 was up and Sam Hildreth's Novelty was the winner.

Regardless of the money value the Futurity probably is the object of the greatest striving and strongest desires among owners and trainers, who supplemented a round of $5 on for in this country it has attained the high position held by the Derby Thursday with an $5 yesterday, for a England. Among the winners of the Futurity may be found the great tor in this country it has attained the high position in this country it has attained the highest may be found the greatest horses this country has seen—Colin, Artful, Maskette, Sweep, Electioneer, Ormendale, Pennant, Domino, Ogden, Campfire and Morello. To both Salvator and Sysonby was denied the glory of winning the classic, Salvator, later to the Seniors' Golf Association title. For a few seconds, or during the brief period that Hasse's approach shot was travelling toward the flag on the home green ling toward the flag on the home green before the strides of Roamer, was among the thirteen juveniles which followed Proctor Knott home in the first Futurity in 1888. That race made a rich man of Sam Bryant of Kentucky, for the winser's share was $45,000, going straight all the way, stopped within an inch of the cun.

Medium for Many a Stanning Surprise.

Medium for Many & Stunning Surprise.

The Futurity has been the medium for many stunning surprises, and the race to-day is likely to write another chapter in the history of unexpected results. It looks as if there will be a field of at least ten and probably sixteen and there really is no strong favorite. Last year Papp went into the race the most heavily backed and won in the mud. R. T. Wilson's Hannibal, son of the great mudder Ormendale, would be even a stronger public choice were there a heavy track to-day, but the outlook is for fairly fast going. This should shift the public backing mostly to P. A. Clark's Dunboyre, which has shown splendid form on a fast track. are so many other spiendid sprinters among the other eligibles that the the criticism heaped on Schuttinger was race is one of the most open in years.

Mr. Wilson's Thunderstorm, and Purchase from the Brighton Stable; The Trump, which won the Nursery the other day; Pigeon Wing from Harry Payne Whitney's barn, Walter Jeffords's Star Hampton, Mr. Kilmer's Mormon, Commander Ross's Sir Barton, and Lady Rosebud, Delaware, Scoots, Grimalkin and Farmingdale all are entered, and some of them have turned in phenomenal trials over the aix furlong route. Several more may be added at the last minute. Several eligibles have not had an outing. Among them Lightning, Pride of India and Natural Bridge. The last named may prove

One of the most unexpected results in the Futurity was that of 1892. when Morello came to the fore. The colt was owned by two Philadelphia butchers and nobody gave him a chance. However, in spite of plebeian through flying. In 1896 the great Ogden, owned by Marcus Daly, was given scant consideration, principally because it was not thought that Doc Taberville could ride a winner against the galaxy of "fashionable" jockeys on the more favored horses. The following year saw the race go to L'Alouette, the outsider, which proved the best mudder on a track which it was looked like a morass.

Even Jockey Schuttinger, who role Starry Ranges formula in the Chicago Nationals.

Starry Banner, forgot about the new finish line and eased up his mount as soon as he crossed the old line. It was this move that cost Starry Banner the race, for when Schuttinger stopped rid-ing Callahan brought Deckmate up with a rush and landed his mount home the victor by a head.

When the official numbers were posted the crowd ran to the stand and de-manded that Starry Banner receive the verdict, but when it was emplaced that the finish line was further down the track the meb turned away and con-demned the jockey for careier uses. But as nothing compared to what was said about the track.

Races Not Truly Run.

Since the meeting began scarcely half or run out, and there has been more foul riding than at any meeting this season. And all of this is because of the way the track is laid out. It is similar to the English courses and the horses are com-pelled to run the opposite direction to that for which they are trained.

Every day the track has been con-demned, but yesterday when Starry Ban-ner was deprived of the race because of the shifting of the fluish line the crowd showed more anger than ever before, and tions would do much to kill the sport in this State. The public wants truly run races and they can't get them at Bel-ment Park until the entire plant is regap on all his opponents.
